FIGHTING CONTINUES IN RIGA

(By Associated Press)
Copenhagen, Oct. 15.—Savage fighting continues in the city of Riga between Lithuanian and Lithuanian troops and the German-Russian army which entered the western part of the city last week. Reports reaching here state that shells have fired a portion of the town and that great damage has been done to the quays and harbor. Many civilians have been killed during the battle. British warships have become involved in the fighting having been fired upon by the German-Russian forces and an unconfirmed report declares a British force has been landed in or near the city. Blockade measures are seemingly being rigidly enforced in the Baltic, 6 German merchant ships having been captured by one British destroyer.

ARBITRATION OF STEEL STRIKE TO BE MADE ISSUE

(By Associated Press)

SENATOR HOLT UPHOLDS THE PEACE TREATY

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Oct. 15.—Adoption of textual amendments would mean defeat of the peace treaty and would accomplish no practical result that could not be brought about by reservations the Senate was told today by Senator Holt, republican of Rhode Island. Referring to the Shantung amendment and that proposed to equalize voting power in the League of Nations, the Rhode Island Senator declared they would reopen peace negotiations while reservations would leave the treaty intact and would change its provisions only for the restoring nation. It would be unfair, he argued to increase the voting powers of the United States as proposed in the amendment of Senator Johnson, republican of California, and leave the other first class powers with only one vote in the assembly.

PRESIDENT HAD A GOOD NIGHT'S REST

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Oct. 15.—President Wilson had a good night's rest and continues to show improvement despite a slight headache, said a bulletin today by his physician. The bulletin follows: "The President had a good night's rest, enjoyed his breakfast and aside from a slight headache continues to make improvement. The condition which caused the restlessness of Monday night and about which Dr. Fowler was consulted gave no trouble during the night."

(By Associated Press)
London, Oct. 15.—Mrs. David Lloyd George, wife of the British premier, is taking a prominent part in the prohibition campaign addressing a meeting of 2,000 women at Glasgow yesterday. Despatches received here quote Mrs. Lloyd George as saying that the success of the campaign depended upon women. "It is the duty of women to help the victims of alcoholism at home as it was to help the victims of Prussianism in Belgium five years ago," Mrs. Lloyd George is reported to have said. "Scotland is on the eve of a great campaign and next year the eyes of temperance reformers throughout the world will be fixed on Scotland. If Scotland is won, the victory will be a great stimulant to the world."

It was announced in despatches received here today. Two battalions of Bolshevik artillery fell into General Denikine's hands. ## BOLSHEVIK REGIME IS TOTTERING

(By Associated Press)
Today's developments from Russia are of an extremely discouraging character for the Bolshevik regime. General Denikine, whose forces are advancing on a front of 45 miles, through Central Russia, has in the center captured Orel, only 235 miles from Moscow and the most important railroad south of the capital. The northwestern army of General Yudenich, also operating on a broad front, is reported to have smashed through the Bolshevik line west and southwest of St. Petersburg and to be within 50 to 75 miles of Petrograd all along the front. Meanwhile, Kolchak's Siberian armies are improving their advantage along the Tobol river and are now within a few miles of the boundary of European Russia from which they were driven by the recent successful Bolshevik offensive. Riga is apparently held firmly for the time being by the Letts. With the exception of the gap between the Volga and the Siberian frontiers a fairly continuous line of offense is established against the Bolsheviks reaching from the Gulf of Finland, sixty miles beyond Petrograd due south to Dvinsk, thence along the Polish front southward to Gornel.

WILSON WILL NOT SANCTION ADJOURNMENT

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Oct. 15.—President Wilson will not sanction adjournment of the national conference here until it has exhausted every possible means of finding a solution of the present industrial situation. While House officials said today, despite his illness, the President was understood to have been informed of the tense situation in the conference resulting in the controversy over labor's proposal for arbitration of the steel strike, he was said to feel that this should not endanger the ultimate success of the conference.

Savannah now at Charlestown navy yard, which went ashore here near the north jetty Monday night, is fast breaking up and has been abandoned by her owner.

The United States coast guard crews of Stations 15 and 20, headed by Capt. Charles and Burnham worked practically all night in an effort to float the craft. The effort was unsuccessfully renewed at high tide yesterday.

The boat was headed from Gloucester for Rowley River Monday when the engine was disabled. Sail was made by the boat did not respond, it was a case of being carried to sea or beaching the craft and the latter alternative was adopted.

The Quaddy is 30 feet long and had originally been used as a fishing vessel and more recently as a pleasure craft. Her value is not more than $1,000.

TOWN OF EPPING ENDANGERED BY FIRE

Epping, Oct. 15.—Fire which threatened a large part of the village started in the Frank Brown grain store here early this morning, and at 1 o'clock a general alarm was sounded. Help was called from Raymond, Newmarket and Exeter, all responding as quickly as possible in an effort to save nearby buildings and stop the progress of the fast spreading flames.

It was no time at all before the flames had spread to the old Perkins hotel, which is situated at the corner of Water and Main streets, the heart of the old town, whose inhabitants number some 1600. Thence the fire jumped across the next building and it was not long before the whole corner was a mass of flames, sparks shooting up into the air and the flames illuminating the sky for miles around.

Soon as the danger of a big fire was realized, nearby places were called on for assistance. Raymond and Newmarket firemen responded while at 1.45 firemen from Exeter were on the road.

At 1.45 o'clock the hotel, two nearby buildings and a stable were doomed, and it was only a question then of how far the flames would spread before being brought under control.

One thing that helped measurably was the fact that it was a calm night, with little wind blowing.

At an early hour, beside the hotel and grain store, which were burning, Laddy Brothers' store, a barber shop, and meat market and house were all on fire, with good prospects of others being added to the list.

The hotel was unoccupied. The cause of the fire is unknown.

At 2.30 o'clock the fire was under control, with the assistance of the Exeter chemical and the help from Newmarket and Raymond, which greatly assisted the local fire department.

The buildings which were destroyed were the hotel, stable which belonged to H. Dube's barber shop, John Caraway's store in the rear of which building was Brown's grain store, a blacksmith shop and the George Parbox building.

The loss has been estimated in the vicinity of $10,000.

The Laddy Brothers store was badly damaged but not destroyed.

The flames jumped across the street and damaged the house of Augustus Bonlange, but this was saved and the progress of the flames stopped in this direction.

The rain which was falling and the absence of the wind saved the town from a fire which might have destroyed the entire place.

DUET TO DEATH WITH GERMS

To prove that his theory that germs do not cause disease, Dr. H. A. Zettel, electrograph, of St. Paul, has challenged Dr. H. W. Hill, executive officer of the Minnesota Public Health Association, to a duel to the death with germs. Dr. Hill accepted the challenge and the two will expose themselves to the most virulent of contagious diseases, including typhoid, smallpox, and bubonic plague.

Dr. Zettel will use in his defense against the germs only sanitation, pure air, and healthy food and drink. Dr. Hill will expose himself after scientific inoculation and vaccination.

The survivor is to be honorary pallbearer at the funeral of the victim, according to Dr. Zettel's challenge.

The challenge grew out of the acceptance by Dr. Hill of a similar challenge issued by Dr. J. B. Fraser of Toronto in an article, "Do Germs Cause Disease?" published in the Physical Culture Magazine. Dr. Zettel is an exponent of Dr. Fraser's theories and offered to substitute himself in Dr. Fraser's place in the duel. Dr. Hill was a bacteriologist in Boston from 1908 to 1905.

The two doctors are to expose themselves simultaneously to the same disease and will then enter quarantine to await the result.

CONVINCED GREAT BRITAIN CAN HOLD PLACE

(By Associated Press)

London, Oct. 14.—Sir Herbert Rowell, formerly president of the British Shipbuilding Employers' Federation, who has just returned from a four months' tour of the United States, Japan and China, to investigate shipbuilding in those countries, says he is convinced that Great Britain can hold its own place in the struggle for maritime supremacy "only by exerting every ounce of its energy and brains."

"While in America," he says, "I felt myself in the midst of circumstances which conveyed conclusively to my mind a real potentiality both in shipbuilding and shipowning. I cannot disbelieve from my mind the possibility of a serious rivalry in the future which I picture the transformation which has taken place in America."

"I was surprised to find that shipbuilders in China and Japan was so far advanced. When China awakens we shall have another serious rival to face."

"Japan," he says, "has not developed her shipbuilding industry in the same degree as the United States. Raw material is her greatest need and difficulty in shipbuilding and, in addition, the Japanese have not yet got commercial enterprise in the same degree as the Americans. Generally speaking, the Japanese will not risk their money as the Americans do."

INDUSTRIAL CONFERENCE IN DEADLOCK

(By Associated Press)

Washington, Oct. 14.—After a heated all day session devoted to the consideration of the labor proposal for the intervention in the steel strike, during which two attempts to adjourn and one substitute resolution were defeated, the National Industrial Conference adjourned tonight without taking any definite action on the steel strike.

Another attempt to obtain action will be made tomorrow when Bernard Baruch of the Public group will offer a compromise proposal. The labor resolution was laid before the conference by the Central Committee without recommendations, but with the committee amendment offered by Samuel Gompers that an arbitration committee of six be chosen by the Conference from within or without the Conference, to arbitrate all labor disputes, after an effort for settlement should have been made by employer and employees.

Chairman Chadbourne of the Central Committee reported that the labor resolution had the approval of the majority of the committee but two of the groups had objected and no approval could be reported.

The climax in the debate on the resolution came late in the day when President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor in an impassioned plea for arbitration of the steel strike declared that the United States Steel Corporation had acted like Bolsheviks in refusing to confer with the unions.

SEEKS TO PREVENT COAL MINERS STRIKE

Washington, Oct. 14.—Immediate steps to prevent nation wide strike of the soft coal miners will be made by the government. Following a conference of the Cabinet officers, Secretary of Labor Wilson announced that he had asked John L. Lewis, president of the United Miners and John I. Brewster representing the operators, to meet him at Washington on Thursday.

Indianapolis, Oct. 14.—John L. Lewis, acting president of the United Mine Workers, who returned here today from a conference of the wage board, said tonight that he would consider the invitation of Secretary Wilson until tomorrow before he would give an answer. Meanwhile the work preparing the draft of the order calling the strike on Nov. 1 was continued.

SENATE GET BITTER OVER PEACE TREATY

(By Associated Press)

Washington, Oct. 14.—Bitter feeling over the Shantung provision of the Peace Treaty which was urged for five hours, reached a boiling point today, and the gavel was used several times to call the attention of the members that the language used was in violation of the senate rules. The declaration of Senator McCumber of North Dakota, in an exchange with Senator Reed, democrat, that Japan was out associate in the war and now that the war is over some of the senators would consider her our enemy and the same senators are very solicitous for Germany, brought a demand from Senator Reed that he name the senators who thought this way, but Senator McCumber refused.

Reformers Now After Tobacco.

When shortly after the ratification of the prohibition amendment to the constitution it was rumored that there would soon be on foot a movement for prohibiting the growth, sale and use of tobacco the report was received in many quarters with incredulity. It was felt that such an undertaking would be preposterous, and most people believed that the rumor was a mere outgrowth of the campaign against the manufacture and sale of alcoholic liquors.

But it seems that there is more to it, so much more that a league to fight the movement has been organized. This is to be known as the Allied Tobacco League of America, which will have headquarters in Cincinnati, and it is expected there will be branches in several other leading cities. The league has already been incorporated under the laws of Kentucky, the greatest tobacco growing state in the country, and officers have been elected. The league was organized by the Association Opposed to National Prohibition, which in a published statement says in part: "Unlike the various and multitudinous efforts made to combat the earlier and pernicious activities of the Anti-Saloon League, which were fruitless to prevent the 18th, or prohibition, amendment, the Allied Tobacco League of America will profit by the experience of others and will meet the campaign for an anti-tobacco constitutional amendment on equal grounds and with full preparedness."

This indicates that the country is in for another campaign for the regulation of the habits of individuals. "Demon Rum" having been disposed of, the next attack is to be directed against tobacco in an endeavor to make its growth or sale illegal. In other words, those who will not quit the use of tobacco voluntarily must be made to give it up by others who know what is for their good better than they do themselves.

According to the Allied Tobacco League this campaign is to be waged under the auspices of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, which, it is said, will follow a program similar to that of the Anti-Saloon League in its earlier work. It is said that at first the campaign will not be pressed in the tobacco growing states, where opposition would be prompt and vigorous, but in states where the people are not particularly interested in the growth and manufacture of tobacco. In time the field of operations would be enlarged in the hope of ultimately securing an amendment to the constitution making the production of tobacco, and consequently its use, impossible without violating the law of the land.

This goes to show that "reform," like appetite, grows by what it feeds on. Even before constitutional prohibition goes into effect a movement is started for the annihilation of tobacco, and if this should succeed no one can tell where the next blow will fall. It would be foolish to imagine that those who feel it incumbent upon them to regulate the personal habits of the people would stop with the wiping out of alcohol and tobacco.

For this reason it will be well for those not in sympathy with the anti-tobacco campaign to get their bearings early and resolve with the Allied Tobacco League to "profit by the experience of others."

While it is generally hoped that there will be no recurrence of influenza it will be well, in view of the experiences of last year, for all to exercise due care with reference to their health at this time. The medical authorities here and elsewhere are on the lookout, and proper care on the part of the people will greatly aid them in their efforts to forestall another possible emergency.

The monthly suppers to be held by the Chamber of Commerce this fall and winter will be pleasant and profitable events if they are supported by the men of the city as they should be. The suppers will be followed by discussions of matters of local interest, in which all are asked to take part, and there should be a hearty response to the generous invitation.

Dover gets a new industry by exempting it from taxation for ten years. Such concessions have sometimes proved profitable in spite of the fact that in most cases industries that are worth having are prepared to bear their fair share of the public burden.

The Portsmouth Historical Society is engaged in a most excellent work and should have the support of every man and woman in the city. And let it be remembered that the best way to support the society is to join it if you have not already done so.

A new central fire station is an assured fact, the contract for the erection of the building having been let. Work will begin immediately and the result will be a substantial public improvement.

Gary, Ind., is now a steel city in more than one sense. A good deal of the steel in sight is polished and pointed, and is carried around by men in uniform.

COMMENT

Let Us Forget!

Cardinal Mercier is taking his new (From the New York Herald)
 fellow-graduates at our colleges into his confidence to such an extent as to what actually did happen in Belgium in war time that the detailed accounts of his tour will keep Americans from dropping into any forget-and-forgive attitude on the subject of the Germans.

A Sob For The Old Pot

(From the Kansas City Star)
 Boston served baked beans to King Albert. A king's diet. But we read that they were served in a golden pot, which is a humiliation to all who know that beans are not beans unless baked and served in an earthenware pot with cod-fish butter on the side.

Washington We Want Sugar!

(From the Cleveland Plain Dealer)
 There are many conflicting statements regarding the present sugar outlook. But it is known that foreign demands are large, and unless action is taken immediately, they will absorb 60 per cent of the 1920 Cuban crop. At the same time reports are made that refiners are making 11-12 cents a pound for a barrel of American beet sugar, an advance of 1-1-2 cents over the quotation given the equalization board a month ago.

The situation points to the danger of extremely high prices during next year. Governmental action alone can ward off the blow. Conditions are likely to get beyond control unless Washington authorities take immediate action to meet the crisis.

Walsh's Severe Arrangement

(From the Worcester Telegram, Rep)
 "It is the complete absence of the high-minded sentiments we (Americans) cherished during the war that has provoked the great opposition to this covenant and crushed the hopes of progressive, forward looking men throughout the world." That is perhaps the most important sentence in the speech Senator Walsh of Massachusetts made in the Senate at Washington, that the entire address is so strong that a choice of expression must depend upon the mood of the critics. The Democratic Administration would not usually erase it all from Senate history. If that were possible, it is the most severe arraignment of the results of President Wilson's two trips to Europe that has been made and that effect is heightened by the fact that Senator Walsh is a Democrat.

An Aggressive King

(From the Baltimore American)
 In the cave of the Winds at Niagara, the attendant who exhibited the Belgian King with oblique remarks at the hotel. "Alas, King, now you are all right." Somewhere along the line the King got chummy with the engine driver, climbed into the cab and piloted the big machine for a ten-mile run. He dresses so demurely that the crowds at the stations that are looking for "his royal highness" can't find him. Yes, Albert does seem to be making a bit in this allegedly democratic United States.

Chasing Off The Crows

(From the Brooklyn Standard Union)
 The German Government has ordered all the crows and monarchical inscriptions removed from public buildings in the country. This is to some extent an indication that they are still a little nervous about a possible return of the Hohenzollerns. They want a generation to grow up with no memories of hereditary rule before its eyes.

In a couple of generations more, if republicanism is a go, they may be carefully preserving all the relics of royalty that escaped destruction, and perhaps manufacturing a few. A dynasty threatening attack is a terror to a dynasty dead as the Stuarts is romantic.

That is the way is worked in this country. A century and a quarter ago we were all for Liberty street and Congress street and Washington Park. Now we name our streets after royal dukes and cannaek the privilege to find names for apartment houses ending with "Arms."

Still, it will be rather hard to incite sentimental interests in relics of any Hohenzollern.

The Sneaking Leaders

(From the Buffalo Express)
 General Wood says that the trouble at Gary and East Chicago was fomented by radicals. The leaders who stir up these affairs rather than the poor dupes, mostly foreigners, who are led into them are the men whom authority should deal with.

Class Warfare, And Why

(From the New York World)
 The selection of Franklin K. Lane, Secretary of the Interior, as Chairman of the Industrial Conference could not have been bettered. He is thoroughly grounded in his democracy. He has an open mind and consequently is progressive. His faith in the United States, its institutions, its people and its destiny is unquenchable.

But when he says that because there is equality of opportunity here there can be no class warfare, his optimism triumphs over facts. There ought not to be class warfare in the United States. It is contrary to every principle upon which this Republic is founded. Its wickedness is proclaimed every hour of the day in every walk of life by the rise to high places of men who have struggled up from poverty and obscurity. And yet class warfare exists and is advocated more and more openly by agitators who preach delectably a foreign gospel of destruction.

Few of our public men have spoken so powerfully as Secretary Lane upon the danger of oligarchy. It is, among this element embracing perhaps 6,000,000 of adults, that the advance agents of hatred and anarchy find the majority of their recruits. Most of those, victimized were prepared by oppression abroad to accept revolutionary instruction as a universal remedy given in a land of freedom, but among them there are many natives who believe their own birthright, the more shame to them and to us.

Class conflict is here, and it is here to stay and to grow unless we make America and its people known to the Allies whom we welcome and forget, and to the millions of our own unfettered whites and blacks whom we ignore. Here is the tinder to which conspirators or fanatics are applying their firebrands. It must have education and justice, but first of all it must be recognized for what it is.

NAVY YARD NOTES

Must Be Absolutely Sure

The Bureau of Navigation of the Navy Department has issued an order to all stations where recruiting is carried out in which officers in charge are reminded that they must be absolutely certain of every man's age and American citizenship before enlistments are made.

Furlough for Machinists

Another furlough is to be given 150 men, employed in the machinery division at the Charlestown navy yard to day. Toward the end of the month several more men are to be furloughed in the various departments, it is said. On account of the lack of room, four destroyers had to be moved to the navy base yesterday. They are the Kharberly, Turner, Menden and Moody.

Frederick Coming

The cruiser Frederick in reserve at the League Island yard, Philadelphia, has been ordered to the local yard for a period of overhauling and repairs.

Bail of $40 Defaulted

A sailor named Dougherty, from one of the ships at the local yard, left $40 with the police department at Dover, part of which he might have collected if he had come back. He was to appear in court on Monday to answer to the charge of intoxication and disorderly conduct. He failed to respond when his name was called, and the money which was furnished by a friend on Sunday for his bail was forfeited.

Condition Improving

Paul Garrett, former Y. M. C. A. secretary at the Naval Prison, who has been confined to the Naval Hospital for several weeks by illness, is steadily improving and now able to get up daily.

N YARD

Three More Eagle Boats
 Three more eagle boats, No's 19, 58, 59, arrived from the Great Lakes today.

Resigns From the Service

Lieut. L. M. McKinley of the medical corps on duty at the yard dispensary has tendered his resignation which has been accepted. He was formerly on the Pittsburgh and will return to his home in South Ryegate, Vt.

Borrowing Coal

Owing to the shortness of coal at the local yard it has become necessary to get a temporary supply from the Charlestown yard. Two thousand tons will come here tonight on a lighter from that station. This is caused by the delay of a shipment from the south.

Quite a Few Gone

About 1200 employees have been discharged from the local yard since the signing of the armistice. At that time about 5400 were on the pay roll outside of clerks and draftsmen.

Why Not These Teams?

Many of the fans at the yard who stuck close to the baseball team during the summer would like to see the yard remain on the sporting map during the winter with both a fast bowling and basketball team to represent the station, especially the bowling. The Portsmouth yard always had a good line of bowlers and there is no reason why the station cannot produce a good working team on the local and outside alleys.

On Sick List

Robert C. Howe, recorder of the yard labor board is confined to his home by illness.

Fifteen Helpers

A call for ten shipfitters, helpers and five general helpers was made today by the Industrial Department.

Attended Chaplains Conference

Captain Charlton and Lieut. (Junior Grade) Hayes of the Chaplains corps, attended the chaplains conference at Newport on Tuesday where nearly all the men of the naval district were represented.

The Herald publishes the local news from 24 to 48 hours in advance of its would-be competitor.

FORREST FOGG

RUN DOWN

BY AUTO

Forrest S. Fogg of 38 Bennett street, a well known employee of the navy yard, was badly injured Tuesday evening by being run into by an automobile at North Hampton, one of his ribs being fractured. He was badly cut about the head and received a severe shaking up from the accident.

Mr. Fogg had been at North Hampton for the day doing some work for his brother and had started to walk to the station to take the train for this city when he was hit by an automobile driven by Melvin Perkins of North Hampton, whose machine skidded and struck Mr. Fogg, the accident seeming unavoidable.

The injured man was taken by Mr. Perkins to the office of Dr. Fernald in North Hampton and later was driven to his home in this city by Mr. Perkins, who was much upset by the accident and did all he could for the comfort of Mr. Fogg. Dr. Taylor was called to attend to the case after the victim of the accident was brought to his home on Bennett street and this morning Mr. Fogg was reported as comfortable as could be expected although suffering much from pain.

MISS MOULTON'S WILL PROBATED

Exeter, N. H., Oct. 15.—The will of Miss Jonette A. Moulton of Hampton Falls, a Boston high school teacher, who died suddenly last Wednesday, was proved at the probate court held here yesterday.

It gives to Miss Louise Clark of 98 Chastnut street, Boston, her most intimate friend and closest associate during her teaching in Exeter, the homestead farm at Hampton Falls with all livestock, farming implements and house furnishings, not otherwise disposed of, and also the sum of $20,000.

Miss Clark is also given $1000 in trust, the income to benefit an aunt of the testatrix, Miss Nan A. Stearns of Boston. At the aunt's death the principal goes to Miss Clark.

Other bequests are $1000 to Mrs. George Poland of Minneapolis in trust for Albert A. Poland, a cousin, with reversion to herself at his death; $2000 to Miss Sarah M. Smith of Exeter, a cousin; $1000 each to two friends, Miss Adeline A. Bain of Melrose and Miss Grace A. Reed of 86 Mount Vernon street, Boston; $1000 to Mrs. George B. Rogers of Exeter, now dead; $100 each to Mrs. Grace G. and Agnes K. Knight of Hampton Falls $100 to Mrs. Francis A. Bangs of Foxboro, Mass.; $1000 to William M. Bond of Rensselaire, W. Va., a recent student at Phillips Exeter, and $200 to Mrs. Sarah N. Hatchelder of Hampton Falls.

In memory of her late mother, Mrs. Emily S. Moulton, the testatrix gives $500 to the New England Grenfell Association.

The residue will be equally shared by seven cousins, Miss Sarah U. Smith and Justin B. Moulton of Exeter, Howard F. Moulton of Hampton Falls, Mrs. Cora A. Whitten, Mrs. Mabel J. Lane and Miss Mary Stearns of Paris, Me., and Albert A. Poland of Minneapolis, the last in trust.

The will was executed May 12, 1918, and named as executor George B. Rogers, a Phillips Latin instructor.

ADVENTURER IS YAP SOVEREIGN

Down in the vicinity of Savannah Ga., there is no mystery about the island of Yap. This little fly speck on the map which seems to have been first prominently mentioned in connection with the war when the President of the United States and the senate committee on foreign relations began to give a heart-to-heart talk with each other over the subject of the big treaty is well known to that city.

The President said he had not heard of the island before. But in Savannah "Yap" has been a household word for a generation or more. It became known there because one of the well known residents of that city who went away and was not heard of for several years, finally hopped up as the king of the island of Yap. This adventurer was Patrick O'Keefe, member of a well known Irish family in Savannah, says the New York Post. He is spoken of yet as King O'Keefe by those who remember him. He is said to have been the dominant figure on the island of Yap for years. He went out there seeking adventure and he found it. He prospered on the island and he took unto himself a native wife. The fact that he left a wife and children back in Savannah didn't bother him in this respect. Being a king, O'Keefe had to have a queen or a consort or something like that. He acquired a pretty good sized family out on the little island in the Pacific. He reigned as a monarch and he acquired wealth.

His family in Savannah heard from him occasionally but the information was not very definite. He never invited his Georgia wife or children out into the big ocean to see him. It was known in a vague sort of way that O'Keefe, who had been a general when he left Savannah, had wandered pretty well from the beaten path of civilization and that he was selling coconuts and other tropical merchandise in the Japanese and other markets. But up to that time even Savannah did not pay a great deal of attention to the island of Yap.

Then one day there came a letter. King O'Keefe had died. This information caused Savannah to wonder what was going to happen next. It didn't take long for the town to find out. The family of the "king" living in Savannah decided that they would see how much of the king's estate was coming to them. At that time they didn't know about the dusky consort on the tight little island, which when looked up on even the biggest maps didn't show up any larger than a pinhead. They engaged the law firm of O'Connor, O'Byrne and Harbridge to look after their interests in the matter. There was a lot of correspondence with Washington, London and Tokio. But there was no real satisfaction in all this.

About all that could be found was that there was an island of Yap and that O'Keefe had died on it after ruling for years. It was also pretty strongly intimated that there was a comfortable fortune waiting the Savannah heirs. At any rate it was decided it was big enough to warrant sending a special commissioner to find it and bring it home. So Walter C. Harbridge, a member of the law firm, packed his trunk and set out for the island of Yap. He got there after a while. He found the dusky family of the late lamented king amenable to reason. Queen O'Keefe on the island of Yap conceded that Mrs. O'Keefe in Savannah and her children, had some rights, and there was a grand division of the estate. Mr. Harbridge turned the share belonging to his clients into cash and returned to Savannah.

This is the reason there was no surprise in Savannah at the mention of the island of Yap. The people in Savannah knew more about the little speck of land than probably any others of the United States. Almost every school child old enough to remember the last trip of Mr. Harbridge knew something the President of the United States did not know, for the President told the senate foreign relations committee he had never heard of Yap until the time came to sign the treaty.

HERE IS A WOMAN WHO CAN SHOOT

(By Peter D. Carney, Editor, National Sports Syndicate.)

For a big, strong man to stand at the traps and fire 200 shells from a shotgun in succession would be considered a most remarkable feat, especially if the shots were fired for a purpose. For a woman to do this it seems is out of the question.

Yet that is what Mrs. Adolph Toppeweh did at 2000 clay pigeons, but she broke 1952 of them. This is a world's record; the best shooting ever done at 2000 targets in one day or a number of days. This remarkable feat was performed at the Montgomery, Ala., Country club, on November 16, 1916.

The actual time consumed in the shooting was 5 hours and 20 minutes. The actual time of shooting was 4 hours and 5 minutes. To fire 2000 shots one after the other required steady nerves and great endurance. By this test Mrs. Toppeweh proved that she was well supplied with nerve and endurance. The exertion of raising and lowering a 7-1-2 pound gun 2000 times, the constant changing from one position to another on the firing line and the weather conditions (which were anything but pleasant) had no ill effect on her.

You hear some people saying that shooting is nothing for a woman to do. When Mrs. Toppeweh began shooting there wasn't a handful of women shooting in America. Now there are hundreds of them and fifty per cent of the women who see Mrs. Toppeweh perform will be willing to try the sport afterwards.

In her wonderful performance at Montgomery Mrs. Toppeweh broke 484 targets out of the first 500; 975 in the first 1000; 1463 in 1500 and 1952 in 2000—an average of better than 97 per cent. That she was as strong as the fabled as the "start" is proven by her 98 breaks in the last 100. The lowest score in any 100 was 95, and she had one continuous run of 250 breaks.

This wasn't the only test of endurance Mrs. Toppeweh ever went through. On July 15, 1905, she shot at 1000 targets and broke 951, getting 455 in the first 500. This shooting required 4 hours and 15 minutes.

There may be shooters with better records than these made by Mrs. Toppeweh, but if there are we haven't met them.

F. RODMAN WAL DEAD

Human Fly Dies of Pulmonary Tuberculosis in Camp in South Carolina (Greenville, S. C., Oct. 14.—F. Rodman Wal, aviator and parachute jumper, who started New York, Chicago and other cities by his feats, died today at the Camp Sevier Hospital of pulmonary tuberculosis. He was a brother of Ruth Wal, the aviatrix.

Law attracted much attention in Boston in 1913 when he offered to bet $50 that he would sink Bunker Hill Monument and put his hat on the top of it. The offer was not made to the city Police Commissioner O'Meara. Needless to say, the bet was not taken; nor did Wal ever try to seize the monument. He did, however, walk on the window ledges of the Bacon Build-

PEOPLE REQUIRE EXERCISE

If the present universal use of automobiles and elevators is continued we may expect our children of the next generation to be born without legs.

Such is the rather startling declaration recently made by Dr. Gary T. Grayson, the White House physician, who in his latest publication has written about the importance of exercise and the way in which modern mechanical conveniences are leading millions of people to live without the necessary amount of physical exertion.

Although not intended to be taken literally, Dr. Grayson in his statement wants to emphasize the fact that many people are making too much use of such labor saving machines and the use of their own legs and arms; or in other words they are living a life of too much ease, as far as physical exertion is concerned.

Dr. Grayson contends that horseback riding is the best of all exercises, particularly for business and professional men and others whose circumstances will permit exercise of this nature.

For the average man, Boston's health commissioner, William C. Woodward, declares walking is the most favorable substitute, as it affords plenty of the fresh air and exercises many of the muscles of the body.

To keep well Dr. Woodward advises the eating of good substantial and healthy food, with a general simplicity of diet and no overeating.

"The appetite should be a fair guide to the amount to be eaten," Dr. Woodward says. "A reasonable amount of sleep is also necessary for a person to keep in good health, and with an ample amount of exercise there is no reason why a man or woman cannot be in good health and healthy physical condition."

It is not necessary to develop big muscles or to be able to climb the bar fifty times," Dr. Woodward also maintains. "The average man of moderate circumstances can be just as healthy as the muscular person or the wealthy man with all his horseback riding, polo games and other select forms of exercise. A good walk in the country, hunting, picture picking flowers and such is good healthy advice for average-salaried men. Tennis, golf and horse back riding of course is of great advantage to those who can afford it, but a good walk in the country is equally exhilarating."

"Of course it is useless now to advise letting things wait a while. That is a healthy away with it."

Some further advice of Dr. Woodward is to keep the body cool, eat of clean otherwise, take good care of the teeth, don't get your feet, avoid sneezing and indulge in plenty of good outdoor and indoor exercise.

Now for the man of more comfortable circumstances—Dr. Grayson, the man who has been personal physician to three Presidents of the United States and now is attending President Wilson, believes in the old expression, "the outside of a horse is the best thing in the world for the inside of a man."

"Horseback riding is more than mere exercising," Dr. Grayson declares. "It gives a perfect and thorough massage to the entire system not only to the muscles but to all the vital organs, the heart, liver, lungs, stomach, intestines, the tissues, nerves, the brain, blood vessels, to every ligament and joint in the physical structure. It brings into play every muscle in the human body, even to the muscles of the legs down to the tips of the toes in the stirrups. It may be that the legs receive the least of this exercise, but you may be sure that if the rest of the body is all right the legs will take care of themselves."

Those who are regularly practicing horseback riding will not be troubled with a sluggish liver nor biliousness due to constipation, for this exercise in the saddle is above all an intestinal stimulant. Nor under normal diet conditions will the continual rider ever suffer from the torments of indigestion as the exercise is a most direct and active tonic to the digestive functions. Also it greatly encourages, if not compels deep breathing, which increases the supply of oxygen and so develops and strengthens the lungs, which in turn cleanse the blood. Aside from the general systematic benefits resulting from riding a horse, the exercise is delightfully comfortable and gratifying and the associations pleasant, for a horse is one of the most friendly and agreeable of companions.

"If proper exercise is not regularly taken certain organs become defective so that the heart is called upon to work at a higher tension in forcing the blood through the system."

ESCAPED DETECTION BY A CLEVER SCHEME

London, Oct. 14.—A story of how one Irish potheen maker, as they call moonshiners in Ireland, managed for a long time to escape detection is so good that it is being told all over the country.

The English revenue officers had detected so many stills by the smoke arising from the fires that the man in question, who coupled a house adjoining, connected his flue with the chimney of the barracks of the Royal Irish Constabulary and his distillery remained undetected until someone betrayed him.

LIEUT. HILL TO GO ON RETIRED LIST OF NAVY

Completes 46 Years of Service for Uncle Sam With an Interesting Career.

Lieut. William L. Hill, one of the best known men of the navy, will retire on Friday after 46 years of service having reached the age limit of sixty-four.

Lieut. Hill's service dates back to the days of the old wooden navy when he enlisted in 1873 with the fleet three years of his navy life spent on the U. S. S. Jaulata. His next period of sea duty was on the U. S. S. Minnesota from 1876 to 1877, on the Trenton from 1877 to 1880, back to the Minnesota from 1880 to 1881, in which year he was appointed a boatswain and served on the following ships: Alaska, 1881 to 1883; Galena, 1883 to 1886; New Hampshire, 1887 to 1888; Jamestown, 1888 to 1891; Brooklyn, 1896 to 1899; Prairie, 1901 to 1904. His period of shore duty was divided between Philadelphia, New York and Portsmouth. From 1907 to 1917 Lieut. Hill was in command of the Southern and Topoka both ships being used as receiving and prison ships. During his command all prisoners arriving at the station passed through his hands. The ships were models of cleanliness and discipline.

LIEUT. WM. L. HILL, U. S. N.

The present methods of Mr. Osborne in saving men for the service was inaugurated by Lieut. Hill and successfully carried out by him.

Few officers on the active list of the navy have a more interesting career. He was awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor in 1881. This medal is the highest honor in the gift of the Government. Of the millions of men who served in the great World War but twenty-two received this decoration; of the Spanish War medals; has entries on his official record of the saving of three lives from drowning, one of these being in the shark infested waters of Key West, Florida, and another in Cuba where alligators were as numerous as sharks; served in the Brooklyn during the war with Spain and took part in the first engagements and with the Spanish fleet off Santiago. In the fleet action was mentioned in the separate official reports of his Captain and Commander-in-Chief for gallantry.

While in command of the Southern he was made Director of the Men's Reading Room at the yard which has been most successful in providing recreation for enlisted men on the station. Largely through his efforts the Army and Navy Association Building on Daniel street, Portsmouth, was erected. By reason of the successful operation of these institutions and the benefits derived by the men of the service, the Navy Department is now engaged in providing similar buildings at other yards and stations conducted along the same lines as those here.

When the law was passed granting warrant officers the privilege of qualifying for promotion, Mr. Hill was nine years over the age limit and had no opportunity to qualify. Notwithstanding this handicap he has performed the duties of a higher grade for many years without the rank and pay suitable to the duty performed. Two years ago a law was passed giving the temporary rank of Lieutenant to men of his grade and under this rank he will retire possibly receiving to his original rank of Chief Boatswain.

Lieut. Hill has been a first lieutenant of the navy since he became the official head of the navy. Relative to the retirement of Lieut. Hill the Secretary has sent him the following letter:

Lieut. W. L. Hill, U. S. N.,
Portsmouth Navy Yard,
Dear Sir:

On the eve of your retirement I wish you to know how highly you are esteemed in the Navy and how every officer I have ever known who has come in touch with you, has spoken in admiration and affection. I valued your counsel very much. It has helped me on more than one occasion and it must be a satisfaction to you because you have passed into the youth of old age to know how many friends you have and to be conscious of the great good you have done the younger men in the service.

JOSEPHUS DANIELS.

EXPENSES EXCEEDED REVENUES

Washington, Oct. 15.—(Governmental expenditures for the 277 American cities of more than 30,000 population for the fiscal year 1918 exceeded revenues by $18,600,000 or $1.12 per capita, according to a report of the financial statistics of cities of every 30,000 by the Bureau of Census yesterday.

In the report, Sam L. Rogers, director of the census, shows that but 80 of the 277 cities had excess of revenues over their expenditures, the excess totalling $22,323,000, or $1.60 per capita, while for the remaining 197 cities expenditures exceeded revenues by $79,923,990, or $3.18 per capita. Among the cities in which revenues exceeded all expenditures are New York, St. Louis, Pittsburgh, Los Angeles, Washington, Portland and Denver.

The aggregate population of these 277 cities was estimated at 31,300,000, or nearly 33 per cent of the total population of the country. Ten cities were estimated to have more than 500,000 inhabitants each and 12 from 300,000 to 500,000 each.

Except for revenues derived from the general property tax, the liquor traffic is shown by the report to have been the largest single item of taxes, totalling $15,570,348, though smaller by $1,395,000 than the sum reported for the fiscal year 1917.

The entire indebtedness of the 277 cities amounted to $2,661,451,218 or $77.53 per capita.

MARSTONS WERE BUSY STEALING AUTOMOBILES

Dr. Fredricka Car Recovered and Thief Arrested at Newburyport.

Kenneth and John Marston of Hampton, counties, have been busy much of late in auto thieving and one of the victims was Doctor George Fredricka of this city. His machine was stolen by Kenneth Marston on the night of August 12 from Middle street.

That night Marston took the car to Seabrook for the night and the following day moved on to Lynn. In that city he did some choice car thieving on the car and later traded it for a Ford and $50.

The work of the Marstons has been known to the authorities of Middlebury County for some time and Sheriff Spillney has been pretty close to their operations for several days.

On Tuesday Kenneth was placed under arrest at Newburyport and later brought to this city by Sheriff Spillney and Deputy Sheriff Tilton, where he was arraigned before Judge Campbell in the Municipal Court.

John Marston is at present under arrest at Middlebury, Mass., for the same work. He is alleged to have made a double steal in taking a machine from Boston which he sold in Middlebury.

He then took one from Middlebury and while attempting to dispose of it in Boston the police of that city got him. He is now under bonds of $500. Another man by the name of Harold Hobbs was mixed up with Marston in the stealing in Middlebury.

SEIZE $2000 OF LIQUOR ON MAINE HIGHWAY

Showerham, Me., Oct. 15.—With a perfectly good coupe ready to say nothing of 46 gallons of Canadian booze Sheriff Mosera and his deputies are popular folks hereabouts just now. Except with those persons—and they say they come from Libin Falls—who have tried to peddle the more or less and distill down this way of late by passing hard stuff from the Canadian side into this same dry law state.

Sheriff Mosera knows a hunter when he sees one, which explains, in part, why his latest capture, one with thrills shots, and all other things, was so successful. The total haul of the sheriff and his deputies has been appraised at well over $2000 which is some haul as things go down in Maine.

Seems the sheriff, being dogmatic sure that Somerset county is going to be kept dry, has been especially vigilant of late and when Deputy Cole of this town, Adams of Madison and Dipson of Hingham were working down Lake Umbagog and saw two automobiles ambushing illegally down from the line, Sheriff Mosera decided immediately that the drivers weren't hunting sportmen but were they motoring for their health.

The sheriff's trusty deputies drove a flyer even across the road. Down came one of the automobiles and when they saw the Ford barreled they didn't even stop the engine. They leaped from their car and ran—more hurriedly still when shots were sent after them. The car bunted down a bit of embankment and lodged safely in a ditch. Inside were 71 gallons of approved intoxicants.

Twenty-five of the gallons that were in the other car which turned and fled back towards Canada were found cached in a nearby swamp. The sheriff is still looking for more of the bootleggers.

TO ADOPT DECIMAL SYSTEM

(By Associated Press)

London, Oct. 15.—The royal commission which has been considering the possibility of introducing the decimal system into this country has recommended that it would be unwise to adopt the plan of decimalizing the sovereign. This, says the report, would lead to great disturbances in social and industrial circles. It added that all the schemes suggested would lead to the abandonment of the sovereign as a standard and working unit of international exchange and therefore would be fraught with risks.

William L. Canton, assistant cashier of the New Hampshire National Bank is having his annual vacation and left Tuesday. For San Antonio, Texas, to visit his son Miss Lieutenant Cheever L. Canton, who is stationed there at Fort Sam Houston.

BUY YOUR COAL NOW

Harry A. Garfield, U. S. Fuel Administrator, says: "Buy now—in August or the Autumn will be too late. A big coal shortage is coming. Thousands of miners are going back to Europe. Coal production has fallen off considerably and a shortage of many million tons looks probable. My advice to consumers is to buy NOW while they can get a selection and DELIVERY."

"I feel bound to say that, as I see the situation, we are likely to experience a coal famine in the Fall." "Unless the consumer buys his coal this summer he is going to find it difficult to get it this Fall and Winter. I predict a shortage of coal because of resumption of business in general, with which the coal industry must share transportation facilities. There are plenty of cars today and consumers of coal are urged to use them while they can get them."

Philadelphia, Oct. 14—Living costs will fall soon, Attorney General Palmer predicted today in an interview.

Throughout the United States the cost of foods has fallen almost twenty-five per cent. Beef on the hoof has gone down so low in some localities that the producers are protesting. The campaign in Pennsylvania for lower prices will have a similar effect."

PROSPECTIVE BUYERS OF JONES PLANT

There have been a number of parties look over the big plant of the Frank Jones Lumber Co. with a view of buying the property. One group of men were here last week from Chicago and they were greatly interested in the plant, but Frank to say that it was far greater than they had expected.

The price asked for the property they admit is reasonable, but the principal hitch seems to be the fear of housing for the men they would bring for the new industry. One concern which was interested and would bring about 250 men, gave up all idea of coming here after looking over the prospects of housing the additional families. They could only see a building project to care for their men, which they did not wish to do.

In addition to the main gatherings in the academy several sessions of the association will hold meetings at a number of other places in the city. A meeting of the modern language section will be held in the high school building at 1.15 p. m. At this session Professor A. K. Hardy of Dartmouth college will make a report on the progress made to date toward the formation of a modern language central library at Concord.

The annual banquet and meeting of the schoolmasters' club will be held at the Y. M. C. A. building on Thursday evening preceding the convention proper. An attractive toast list has been prepared and it is anticipated the banquet will be largely attended.

A separate club has been organized among women teachers and educators of the state and they will hold their first annual banquet at the Y. M. C. A. rooms on Thursday evening also. Unusual interest has been manifested in this gathering and it is expected that a large delegation to make the initial meeting a huge success.

DEFENDS THE PRACTICE OF BUYING COTTON

New Orleans, Oct. 14.—Defense of the practice of buying cotton was made at today's session of the World Cotton Conference by Randall S. Duffee.

Admitting that there is much harmful speculation in the cotton crop the speaker defended the sale of futures as necessary for the conduct of industry. What is needed he said is not so much new methods as a better spirit of business dealings.

Transportation of cotton was discussed by W. S. Turner and a plea for uniform classification of cotton was made by D. S. Murphy.

At yesterday's session of the conference the question of stabilizing the price of cotton was discussed by Theodore H. Price, John M. Parker and on the growing of cotton and W. D. Nesbitt described methods of compressing cotton.

CURTIS RESIGNS SCHOOL POSITION

A. H. M. Curtis, assistant superintendent of instruction of the Manchester schools, has tendered his resignation to the New Hampshire State Board of Education to become effective on December 1.

Mr. Curtis has been connected with school work in this city since 1907 and for 10 years was principal of the Lincoln street school. From there he went to the West side and was principal of the Parker and Varney schools for two years.

At that time the need of an assistant superintendent was felt and the qualifications of Mr. Curtis warranted his being appointed to the duties which he has satisfactorily filled.

Mr. Curtis will leave Manchester shortly after his resignation becomes effective and will go to Detroit, where he intends entering business.

The announcement of the intended departure comes to the school board and the State Board of education with a feeling of regret. During his stay in Manchester he has been credited with having done work of an important character and has assisted greatly in upholding the high standard maintained by the schools in this city.

Mr. Curtis is a native of New Castle and prior to going to Manchester was a teacher in this city.

ARE CLOSED BY SUPPLY

Eastport, Me., Oct. 15.—Sardine canneries will close ahead of schedule this fall, owing to the enormous stock in store and the decline of the market. Several thousand employees will be seriously affected.

The season has been unusual in many respects. The pack has been larger than ordinary, operating expenses have been considerably lower than in other years and the hearing have been of better quality than the average.

According to quotations issued at the canning factories here, the prevailing market price has been $3.75 a case of 100 cans. During the summer months sales were made at $1. The high water mark was in the spring when the canners were getting $6 a case.

The unusually low price is due to surplus. For some unknown reason thousands of cases of last year's pack are remaining. Never before have so many thousands of cases of year-old sardines been available this late in the fall. The 1918 pack was approximately 2,000,000 cases. More than 100,000 remain. The pack this far this year is estimated in excess of last season.

GOOD PICKING FOR THE FOX

Even while we read the newspapers, someone is always taking the joy out of life; as for instance, by this item from a Sullivan county exchange: "Mrs. Mallin had the misfortune recently to lose fifty-three of her largest young turkeys by foxes. She has tended them with the greatest care all summer, and the first night they were out, only forty-six of the ninety-nine in number were found next morning."

BIRTHDAY PARTY PLEASANT EVENT

Edith, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Littlefield, observed her tenth birthday anniversary on Tuesday afternoon at the home of her parents, 547 State street and entertained ten of her little friends.

Various pictures added to the interest of the occasion, music, games and dancing making the time pass right merrily. A birthday supper was served in the dining room which was prettily trimmed with Halloween decorations. The menu consisted of salad, assorted cake, fancy cookies, candy, ice cream and grape juice. At each corner was a dainty place card. The little folks entered the dining room to the music of a march played on the piano. A birthday cake on which were lighted candles graced the table and each guest was presented with a slice.

The young hostess had numerous birthday gifts and the occasion was one to be pleasantly remembered by her guests.

Why You Should Buy Coal Now

The price of coal is 75 per cent determined by wages. The wage agreement at the mines continues until April 1, 1920. The Fuel Administration reports that 35 per cent of the mines cannot make any money at the present mine prices. In view of this, how can coal be cheaper this year?
